and Visions for the Future

February 24-27, 2025

Pinnacle Hotel and Suites, Davao City

Mindanao International Studies Society Convention (MISSCON) 2025

Reconnecting International Studies in Mindanao:
Weaving Together our Histories, Current Dynamism,
and Visions for the Future

The study of the international in Mindanao thrives and continues to integrate nascent transboundary trends into our understanding of the world. Imitating the complexity of indigenous textile patterns, doing International Studies in Mindanao is the active interweaving of a worldview that emanates from the island's rich heritage, contemporary positionalities, and hopeful transitions. Emerging from the five-year pandemic-induced hiatus, the Mindanao International Studies Society (MISS) reconvenes to reconnect the IS community of Mindanao by weaving together our histories, current dynamism, and visions for the future. The 2025 MISS Convention (MISSCON) will allow us to trace our common past, accompany each other in the present journey, and together dream of a shared tomorrow.

9:55 – 10:00 AM	Introduction to the Plenary Session and Speakers Day I Theme: Reconnecting Mindanao International Studies The starting point of the conference is our positionality as students and scholars of International Studies in Mindanao. The morning panel seeks to acquaint participants with the history, present situation, and prospects of Mindanao IS/IR programs. From this positionality we are called to decolonize our view of the world through the integration of the diverse and collective Mindanao experience in our study of the “international.” Decolonizing our positionality ultimately allows us to make a deeper appreciation and more critical self-reflection of pressing issues.

Day 2 Theme: Reconnecting with the Global Realities, Uncertainties, and Frontiers From our Mindanao context, the conference will then reconnect us to contemporary global realities and invite us to consider possible futures. The presentations will take us to a deep dive of regional and global security trends and uncertainties. We are called to take a closer look at the consequences of the growing complexity of cyberspace to gender, human rights, security, and politics, among others. Rather than cower in this fast-changing world, we are called to proactively engage with it. One such area of engagement is diplomatic practice – a popular career goal of IS/IR students.
